

MOUHAMED THIOMBANE

WordPress Webdesigner

I am a passionate WordPress integrator specializing in using Elementor to create dynamic and aesthetic websites. As a freelancer, I have gained solid experience in integrating mockups from various design tools, including Adobe XD, Figma, Sketch, and Photoshop. My goal is to transform your concepts into functional and attractive websites that perfectly meet your needs.

History

I am a very ambitious and introverted person with many dreams and projects. From a young age, I felt different from my generation, often finding solace and wisdom in the company of older individuals. My passion for computer science, particularly web development, is where I believe my true potential lies, guided by the will of God.

Life has presented me with significant challenges. Losing my father at an early age left me as the sole man of the family. This responsibility fuels my determination to succeed, as I strive to take care of my mother and my two sisters. My faith is the cornerstone of my existence. As a devout Muslim, religion holds a fundamental place in my life. God is my anchor, and the Quran serves as my guide and protection in navigating the complexities of the modern world.

Entrepreneurship is another passion of mine. I see it as a vital path to achieving freedom and making a meaningful impact. I believe that through hard work, dedication, and faith, I can create something valuable not just for myself, but for others as well.

Experience
